

GEPW Executive Director Job Announcement

July 29, 2025

Glen Echo Photoworks (GEPW), a well-established and highly regarded photo arts education non-profit based at Glen Echo Park, is seeking a dynamic part-time Executive Director (ED). The GEPW mission is to facilitate photographers at all levels to grow to their visual potential, and our vision is to continue as a preeminent photography center and community that preserves traditions while exploring the frontiers of visual expression in photography. We achieve our mission and vision via our people, their art, and their instruction, and by being a financially stable organization with the means to adapt to the changing photography environment, and are seeking an ED who will oversee day-to-day operations, manage a small team of three part-time staff, take the lead on community engagement, fundraising, and volunteer coordination, and support the coordination of classes and online content.

The ED will work closely with a dedicated seven-member volunteer Board of Directors to advance the organization's mission of serving artists and students across the Maryland, DC, and Virginia region. The ED will also work closely with our instructors, our volunteers, and our interns.

The ED will regularly interface with the Glen Echo Park Partnership for Arts and Culture (GEPPAC, <https://glenechopark.org/>) to lead the delivery of Photoworks events, courses, and business operations and to identify and act on new opportunities with GEPPAC, other Glen Echo Park cooperators, and other arts and community organizations.

This part-time role offers compensation with the potential for increases tied to GEPW growth and the achievement of fundraising and other financial performance goals.

GEPW is proudly supported by the Maryland State Arts Council and the Arts & Humanities Council of Montgomery County.
